At TECO, our local in-house workshop facilities are staffed by highly qualified technicians and tradespeople, operating across five ISO9001 accredited and IECEx certified workshops.

Our skilled teams in Australia and New Zealand excel in a wide range of mechanical and electrical modifications, all executed with unwavering dedication to TECO's stringent QA standards.

Furthermore, TECO's workshops boast IECEx certification for manufacturing Ex-e, Ex- nA, and Ex-t flame and explosion area rated motors, demonstrating our commitment to delivering excellence in hazardous area solutions . The ability TECO to offer product manufactured locally significantly reduces lead times for our customers looking to source Explosion Proof and Flame Proof solutions.

We're also certified to complete modifications on our Ex-d and Ex-de motors, ensuring your specific needs are met with precision.

With TECO, you're not just choosing a product; you're partnering with a trusted industry leader committed to safety, quality, and innovation.

Our Customisation Offerings Include:
